

SHUMI

Website Design & Digital Experience

A global digital platform for women's empowerment

TEDCANLABS

September 2026

A website should be more than a website.

SHUMI has the opportunity to build not a brochure, but a platform — one place where women, stories, programmes, events, resources, communities and partners connect to each other.

- Women
- Stories
- Programmes
- Events
- Resources
- Communities
- Partners
- Opportunities

Make SHUMI's mission experienceable.

Create a digital experience that makes SHUMI's mission tangible — connecting women, communities, stories and opportunities across the world.

Global

Not generic

Human

People before jargon

Bold

Confident, not loud

Dynamic

Built to grow

The world through her.

Not “women around the world” — that is a category. “The world through her” is a lens.

Every piece of content sits somewhere on this line. The design's job is to make the line visible.

Four principles.

01

Human first

Real people and authentic stories before organisational language.

02

Global by design

A worldwide perspective carried by specificity, never by landmarks.

03

Impact made visible

Turn impact into visual storytelling, not four tiles of numbers.

04

Designed for movement

An evolving platform, architected to grow without redesign.

Inspired by principles. Not copied.

WHAT WE TAKE

Named events as destinations

An event with its own identity and URL converts far better than a row in a list.

Event-first architecture

Organised around “when can I come” — the right priority for an organisation that gathers people.

Attributed testimonials

Real names against real quotes. The credibility mechanism is right.

WHAT WE LEAVE

The statistics band

8000+ attendees, 250K+ viewers. SHUMI has no such figures, and inventing them is out of the question.

The press-logo marquee

A row of logos SHUMI has not earned is a lie with a design system around it.

Four competing typefaces

And a heading order running h1 → h3 → h4 → h2, which scrambles the page for screen readers.

Studied from the reference's actual markup — not from impression.

Three ways to experience SHUMI.

01

Editorial

The world's editorial voice for women.

02

Global

A network connecting women and opportunity.

03

Human

A platform built on real women's stories.

Genuinely different design philosophies — not one design in three palettes.

Editorial SHUMI

Credibility through craft, not statistics.

SHUMI as a publication with a point of view. The only stance that lets a young organisation look serious today — with no numbers, no press and no partner logos.

- Large editorial typography
- Asymmetric, grid-breaking layouts
- Full-bleed photography
- Oversized pull quotes
- Generous negative space

STRENGTH —

Degrades honestly. Works beautifully with nothing to prove.

WATCH —

Coldest of the three. Lives or dies on photographic quality.

08 — CONCEPT 8

SHUMI Global

Geography as structure, not decoration.

SHUMI as a network. Country becomes metadata on every story and programme, so 'global' is a fact of the architecture rather than a claim in the copy.

- Region and community storytelling
- Filtered programme discovery
- Impact metrics tied to stories
- Location-led navigation
- Dynamic transitions

STRENGTH —

Highest ceiling. The only direction that becomes a true platform.

WATCH —

Requires the most content. Looks worst when empty.

Human Connection

One woman, told properly.

SHUMI as a deeply human platform. Documentary portraits, personal quotes and an intimate visual rhythm — story-first rather than section-first.

- Large documentary portraits
- Personal quotes at scale
- Organic, warm layouts
- Story-first navigation
- Soft, unhurried transitions

STRENGTH —

Highest warmth and conversion. Best mobile experience.

WATCH —

Least differentiated. Weakest at expressing 'global'.

10 — COMPARISON

Scored, honestly.

	Editorial	Global	Human
Premium feel	10	6	8
Global identity	7	5	10
Warmth	4	10	5
Accessibility	8	10	6
Storytelling	9	8	7
Event conversion	6	9	8
Mobile UX	7	10	8
Scalability	7	6	10
Differentiation	9	5	8
Emotional impact	7	9	7
Long-term potential	8	6	10
Unweighted total	82	84	87

THE REAL FINDING

Three points across eleven categories is noise.

Weighted by what SHUMI needs next, each concept wins decisively — and the other two lose.

Fill the event → Human

Win credibility → Editorial

Build the platform → Global

So the choice is a strategy decision, not a taste decision.

Editorial × Global Impact.

Editorial leads because it is the only stance that lets SHUMI look serious today. Global supplies the structure. Human supplies the heart.

70%

Premium editorial
Credibility through craft

20%

Global impact
Geography as architecture

10%

Human storytelling
The emotional centre

What we deliberately leave behind: the content debt. Counters, maps and filters are specified and switched off until SHUMI has something true to put in them.

Built to grow.

GROWTH SLOTS —
Membership · Chapters · Regional hubs · Speakers · Vendors · Directory · Mentorship · Grants

Each maps onto a section that already exists. Adding one never forces a navigation redesign.

13 — HOMEPAGE JOURNEY

A journey, not a stack of sections.

Highlighted: the four beats that carry the argument.

THE TRANSITION RULE

Consecutive sections never share a ground colour or a layout shape. That rhythm is what stops twelve sections reading as twelve boxes.

When women move forward, the world moves with them.

SHUMI connects women across countries and generations.

EXPLORE SHUMI

MEET THE WOMEN

Composition briefed with the headline in mind — the type never needs a scrim to be legible.

15 — INTRODUCTION

A manifesto. Not a paragraph.

The introduction is set as a large typographic statement, broken across lines and revealed as the visitor arrives. Short, declarative, in SHUMI's own voice.

“[SHUMI'S OWN WORDS — 25-40 words, to be written with SHUMI]”

Never fabricated. This slot stays visibly empty until SHUMI writes it.

A number that hands you a person.

XX,XXX

Women reached

XX

Communities

XX

Countries

XX

Programmes

Then the chain continues.

A statistic that hands straight to one woman is worth more than four statistics in tiles. It also degrades gracefully — with the number still a placeholder, her story alone carries the section.

XX,XXX WOMEN

→

ONE WOMAN

→

HER
COMMUNITY

→

THE WORLD

ALL FIGURES ARE PLACEHOLDERS.

No SHUMI statistic has been invented. These slots stay visibly empty until real numbers exist.

Explorable. Not a spinning globe.

FILTER BY REGION

Africa	Americas	Asia
Europe	Middle East	Oceania

[COUNTRIES SHUMI OPERATES IN — client to supply]

WHY A LIST BEFORE A MAP

A typeset region index is honest at three countries and still works at sixty. A world map with four pins advertises how few pins there are — the opposite of the intended effect.

It is also keyboard-navigable and legible to a screen reader, which a map is not without significant extra work. The map becomes progressive enhancement, never the only way in.

Discovery that works at six, and at sixty.

All

Region

Theme

Type

Status

EDUCATION

[PROGRAM NAME]

[Region] · [Theme]

[Short description — client to supply]

Explore →

ECONOMIC

[PROGRAM NAME]

[Region] · [Theme]

[Short description — client to supply]

Explore →

LEADERSHIP

[PROGRAM NAME]

[Region] · [Theme]

[Short description — client to supply]

Explore →

COMMUNITY

[PROGRAM NAME]

[Region] · [Theme]

[Short description — client to supply]

Explore →

Her story is part of a larger story.

[WOMAN'S NAME]

[LOCATION] · [REGION]

“[Her quotation — real, short, attributed, and used with her permission.]”

[Short introduction — 40 to 60 words, client to supply]

READ HER STORY →

Every story carries region, theme and programme as metadata. That is what makes the global architecture real rather than claimed — and what lets one story link back up to its community, its region and the world.

Events are experiences, not a calendar.

ARCHITECTED FOR EVENTBRITE — NOT INTEGRATED TODAY

The ticket action is a slot behind a clean interface, so connecting Eventbrite later is configuration rather than a rebuild. We are not claiming an integration that does not exist. A post-event state is designed too, so the section never looks stale the morning after.

21 — GET INVOLVED

Learn → Connect → Act.

Not six identical buttons. A progression ordered by commitment.

Height signals commitment. The page moves left to right from the easiest thing a visitor can do to the biggest — so nobody is asked to donate before they have been given a reason to.

Designed for the phone, not shrunk to fit.

Home

Story

Event

- Menu says the word “Menu”
Not a bare icon. Older users tap words.
- Primary action in the lower third
Thumb reach is a layout constraint.
- Art-directed crops per breakpoint
A 21:9 desktop hero becomes 4:5 on mobile.
- Nothing depends on hover
Every menu opens on tap.
- Scale relationships hold
Display steps 112px → 44px; the ratios survive.

23 — MOTION SYSTEM

Motion with a job to do.

Image reveal

Mask wipe up, 600ms. Once, on first view.

Editorial statement

Line-by-line rise, 80ms stagger.

Impact figures

Count up 1200ms — and present as static text before any script runs.

Story rail

Horizontal momentum, keyboard operable.

Page transition

300ms cross-fade.

Hover

150ms colour only. Never scale, never lift.

FORBIDDEN

Bounce · spin · fly-in · auto-advancing carousels · scroll-jacking · parallax on text · anything that repeats on every scroll past.

prefers-reduced-motion disables all of it. Nothing is discoverable only through motion, and no information exists only inside an animation.

SHUMI updates the site. Not a developer.

Story Name · Location · Portrait · Quote · Body	Program Name · Category · Impact · Status	Event Name · Date · Location · Ticket URL	Resource Title · Type · File · Description
Region Name · Communities	Impact metric Label · Value · Source · As-of date	Partner Name · Logo · Consent flag	Team Name · Role · Bio · Consent flag

TWO FIELDS THAT ARE NOT DECORATION

Impact metric carries Source and As-of date. Partner and Team carry a Consent flag.

These make it structurally awkward to publish a number nobody can stand behind, or to name a person or organisation that has not agreed. The content model enforces the honesty policy — rather than relying on whoever happens to be editing that day.

Chosen for reasons, not résumé.

Next.js + TypeScript

Editorial sites live or die on image performance and SEO.

Headless CMS

The content model is relational; a page-based CMS cannot express it.

Tailwind + design tokens

Tokens map 1:1 to the system, so contrast rules survive handoff.

Art-directed images

AVIF/WebP, per breakpoint. Cinematic must not mean slow.

Accessibility built in

WCAG 2.1 AA measured, not assumed.

Eventbrite adapter

Behind a clean interface. Swappable, and not claimed as built.

TARGETS —

LCP under 2.5s on 4G · CLS under 0.1 · self-hosted fonts with metric-matched fallbacks · no autoplay with sound · semantic HTML, Article and Event schema.

Seven steps.

We do not skip the wireframe stage and we do not skip the concept comparison. Both already exist for SHUMI — this deck is the output of steps one to three.

27 — TIMELINE

Seven to eleven weeks.

THIS IS AN ESTIMATE.

It moves with content availability, feedback cycles and final scope — content is almost always the critical path, not development.

What you receive.

Strategy

- UX strategy
- Information architecture
- Three creative directions
- Wireframes

Design

- Final UI design
- Responsive design
- Design system
- Motion specification

Build

- Website development
- CMS
- Event architecture
- Forms

Launch

- SEO foundation
- Analytics
- Accessibility audit
- QA, deployment & support

Investment.

Strategy & UX	$XX,XXX
Discovery, IA, wireframes, three directions
UI / Visual design	$XX,XXX
Final design, responsive, design system
Development	$XX,XXX
Frontend build, performance, accessibility
CMS & integrations	$XX,XXX
Content model, forms, event architecture
Testing & launch	$XX,XXX
QA, deployment, launch support

Figures are placeholders.

No pricing has been invented — these are filled in once scope is confirmed with SHUMI.

Four things, done together.

- Strategy
We start with the argument, not the pages.
- Design
Premium digital experiences that hold up beside anyone's.
- Technology
Scalable implementation, built to be handed over.
- Experience
Human-centred products, measured rather than assumed.

The quality of this document is the argument.

A group of diverse women are walking across a paved courtyard in front of a light-colored building with arched windows and doorways. The scene is dimly lit, suggesting dusk or dawn. The women are dressed in a variety of styles, including traditional patterned dresses and modern business attire.

SHUMI deserves a digital experience that reflects the scale of its mission.

A platform that does not simply tell people what SHUMI does — but lets them experience the women, stories, communities and impact behind the organisation.

Let's build SHUMI's digital future.

TEDCANLABS